Aranda de Duero has been awarded the title of European Wine City 2020 by RECEVIN, competing with incredible places like Haro, Rueda or La Palma del Condado. Due to the exceptional situation that happened in 2020, it has been extended during the years 2021 and 2022.

In the centre of the extensive fertile plain irrigated by the river Duero, lies the capital of the no less extensive riparian region: Aranda de Duero.

Repopulated in the 9th century, the name of this Castilian city appears for the first time in the Council of Husillos held in 1088. However, it already had very ancient settlements from whose languages it takes its name, Aranda, which means "wide plain", while Duero comes from the river's name. In the 13th century, Sancho IV and Pedro I had already granted the town the privilege of royal status, a status that the people of Aranda never wished to relinquish. Proof of this was demonstrated when, during the reign of Fernando IV, Diego López de Haro wanted to take over the town. The tower of the church of Santa María, built in the 12th century as a defensive feature of the town, bears witness to such courtly intrigues.

Court in the reign of Henry IV, where Archbishop Alfonso Carrillo convened a Council in 1473, held in the church of San Juan. Loyal to the cause of Princess Isabella for the succession to the crown, at the end of the 15th century, beginning of the 16th century, the façade of the church of Santa María, on which the royal coats of arms can be seen, among other works, was built.

The church, built in the 15th century in the Gothic style, is home to a 17th century altarpiece and a beautiful Renaissance pulpit, carved by Miguel Espinosa and Juan de Cambray, among other works of art.

Also Gothic, although earlier than Santa María, is the church of San Juan. The façade is adorned with a portal of pointed arches supported by delicate spires, and a later image of Saint John the Baptist. In the chapel of the Calderonas you can see a Plateresque altarpiece, with paintings by an unknown artist from the early 16th century.

TOURISM IDEAS IN CASTILLA Y LEÓN

VALLEY BEES WORKSHOP-MUSEUM IN POYALES DEL HOYO

Museo de las abejas, Poyales, Ávila

Abejas del Valle (Valley Bees) is a Workshop-Museum designed for learning about the world of bees where you can take a completely safe look at these industrious insects. Having the chance to take a close look at bees in action as they work freely in their natural environment makes this original living museum an unbeatable one of a kind place. This is not just any museum, it's a place where you have the chance to figure out the mysteries of the hive and its perfectly organised society. Experience of the world of bees up close, discover how they live and work, and their relationship with humans. Examine hanging hives and see images of how the queen lays her eggs, how drones feed, and how worker bees gather honey and pollen. This is all accompanied by explanations from an expert beekeeper. There is also an exhibition on beekeeping in the past: traditional hives from all over the Iberian peninsula and Morocco, extractors, bee suits, honeypots, smokers, and other beekeeping tools.

NATURAL POOLS ON THE NELA RIVER IN VILLARCAYO

The town of Villarcayo, in Las Merindades county, features the river Nela as an interesting way to enjoy the great outdoors all year round, especially in summer when swimmers flock to the natural pools in El Soto Park. This large outdoor area has natural bathing areas, gardens, green spaces, children's facilities, and rest areas. The perfect place to have a good time. It has been added to the official register of Bathing Areas in Castilla and León this year.

LOIS AND THE MOUNTAIN CATHEDRAL

Lois, León

Lois is one of the most unique towns in the Eastern León Mountains. This small town, nestled in the Dueñas valley, is classed as a Site of Cultural Interest in the category of Historical Area. It has a striking collection of historical and cultural heritage with palaces and manor houses such as the "Casa de los Álvarez Acebedo", the "Casa de los Reyero", and the "Palacio de los Castañones". It also retains examples of traditional architecture, including the "Casa del Humo" (House of Smoke), a building with a thatched roof and wooden and stone frame that is typical of early houses in the León Mountains. Although if something makes Lois a popular destination it is the towering Santa María church. Known as the "Catedral de la Montaña" (Mountain Cathedral), the sober exterior is far removed from its impressive interior, which is home to an altarpiece from the school of Simón Gavián Tomé and various chapels with tombs of the important local families. There is also the splendid Cátedra del Latín, a Grammar School founded by Jerónimo Rodríguez-Castañón Valbuena, a native of the town, which was a real honour for the time when education was not readily available to everyone. The most traditional dishes from the area include the cocido de arvejos vetch stew, the caldereta de cordero lamb stew, and the traditional chanfaina stew, which are all typical of nomadic culture.

TORQUEMADA AND BALTANÁS WINERIES

The Torquemada and Baltanás winery neighbourhoods are official Sites of Cultural Interest in Castilla and León, in the category of Ethnological Area, that stand as examples of the cultural and ethnographic heritage of Castilla and León linked to wine production. Exploring these neighbourhoods takes you into the world of wine and traditional wineries that there used to be in villages, and often in people's houses. The Baltanás area has 374 wineries over 6 levels and Torquemada has 465 recorded wineries. These areas used to produce quite a lot of wine, which then fell away over time. It has now been recovered, to the extent that many of these wines have won important Spanish and international prizes in various categories. This architecture, which is so typical of the Cerrato area in Palencia, is a symbol of identity that almost every village in the area shares. They have been able to conserve their roots and traditional natural resources from as far back as the 16th century, as recorded in many documents. There are several guided tours that give you a first-hand view of these beautiful wine-producing neighbourhoods and some of the wineries. Don't miss out and book your visit.

ARRIBES DEL DUERO CHEESE

Arribes del Duero cheese is a product that, slowly ripened under the watchful gaze of master cheesemakers, takes on deep flavours that make it a uniquely delicious delight. Awarded its own Quality Label, it is intimately linked to this county as the milk it uses comes solely from sheep farming in the area, which makes use of natural pastures in an extensive system. The main trait of this cheese is that it is made using unpasteurised sheep's milk with natural rennet. Traditional forms of ageing and storing are used, despite the availability of modern technology, the secrets of which are closely guarded and passed down from generation to generation.

CERRO DEL CASTILLO - BERNARDOS

The Cerro del Castillo archaeological site is located in the area of Bernardos, in the valley of the river Eresma, the main route between the large Roman cities of Coca and Segovia. We can find an extraordinary late Roman fort there which was classed as a Site of Cultural Interest in 2006. The Hispano-Romans of the area made a strategic decision to live there in great numbers around the 5th century C.E. The site would later be reinforced with a large stone wall, which was over three metres wide and was guarded by semi-circular towers all along the perimeter. This site was still inhabited in the Visigoth era and in the early stages of the Muslim invasion of Spain, when significant changes were made to the walls. Visitors can find more information on the area on boards at the Bernardos Town Hall to help with their visit. The Virgen del Castillo shrine is also worth highlighting. The journey of the Virgen up to the shrine takes place every ten years. Other points of interest in this town include the 16th century church, the Humilladero shrine, the shrines of Santa Inés and San Roque, the latter of which has a permanent exhibition on the textile industry.

SAN ESTEBAN DE GORMAZ

Iglesia de San Miguel, San Esteban de Gormaz, Soria

This town, declared a Historical-Artistic Area in 1995, features a great deal of Roman remains and Medieval traces in churches and fortifications. The town of San Esteban de Gormaz lies on a strategic location on the banks of the river Duero, the natural border between Muslim and Christian lands long ago. The castle, standing on the crest of a hill, looks over the village where the traditional wineries and some of the main streets cover the steep foot of the hill. San Esteban de Gormaz is a byword for the Romanesque. It is home to the oldest porticoed Romanesque church in Castilla, San Miguel, which dates back to 1081. A tour through the old town also takes in the 12th century Romanesque church of Nuestra Señora del Rivero, the parish church of San Esteban Protomártir, the remains of the walled town, and the narrow streets and alleys where mudbricks and the masonry of noble houses stand side by side. Visitors are encouraged to cross through (on foot, by bike, on motorbike, on horseback...) the natural forest on the Traditional Paths, such as La Ruta de la Lana (The Wool Route), La Senda del Duero (The Duero Path), and El Camino del Cid (El Cid's Way). The town is also the starting point of the Ribera del Duero D.O., where renowned vineyards cover the 18 districts that make up the municipality.

NUESTRA SEÑORA DE LA ASUNCIÓN CATHEDRAL

This is most certainly one of the crown jewels of the city of Valladolid. King Phillip II, who was born in the city, did not wish to die without leaving his city a cathedral of its own. So, in 1582 work started and in 1595 it was granted cathedral status, as it had previously only been a collegiate church subordinate to the diocese of Palencia. The architect Herrera died in 1597 and Phillip II died in 1598. The project was highly ambitious, aiming to be one of the biggest cathedrals in Christendom. However, it was never finished due to a lack of funds. Before the Renaissance there were 3 collegiate churches. The first two were Romanesque and the final one was Gothic. Traces of the latter still stand in the gate tower and the galleries of the present day religious art museum. There was a tower alongside the current one, called the tower of the "Buena Moza" (Good Young Lady) as it was the tallest and slimmest of its age. A fierce storm brought it down in 1841 which led to the start of work on the current one in the 19th century, which was finished by the addition of a statue of the Sacred Heart in 1923.

SANABRIA LAKE BEACHES

Lago de Sanabria, Zamora

The scorching summer is already here so we have got a great idea for you this year. Cooling off at wonderful inland beaches. Zamora is a great place to spend the summer. Even though it's hot during the day, the nights are fresh and there are lots of rivers, lakes, lagoons, and reservoirs where you can go for a refreshing dip. In the province, Sanabria stands out at this time of year, not only for the lake there but also for the spots around it. Sanabria Lake, despite being a glacial lake, offers pleasant temperatures in summer and in recent years is even warm. The water is pure and you can easily see small fish from the shore. For those looking for a bit more of an adventure, you can try out some water sports such as kayaking, paddleboarding, paddle boat trips, or a tourist cruise on the wind and solar powered Helios Cousteau catamaran at Costa Llago beach. There are various river beaches all along the shores of the Lake that are surrounded by plants and trees. The most famous are Playa Viquiella, Costa Llago beach, Arenales de Vigo beach and Folgoso beach. There are also lots of beaches in the different areas the river Tera flows through.
